DEDICATION . . .

To The Memory Of

DEAN E. L. WHITSITT

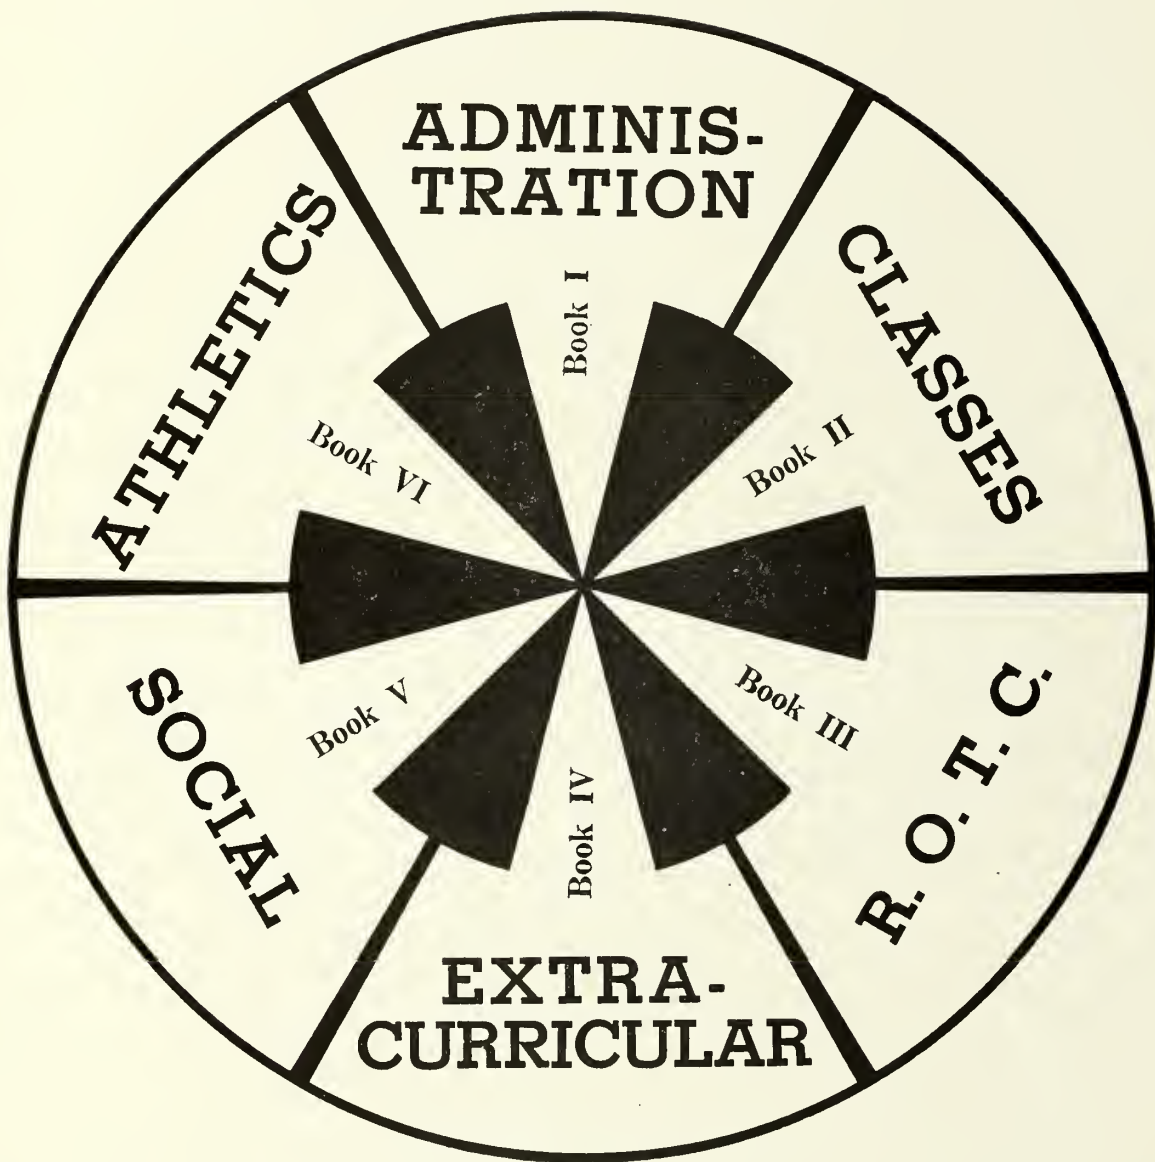

(Died July 17, 1937)

To the memory of one, under whose able leadership this College maintained its highest proficiency from 1917 to 1937, and under whose assistance the Agriculture Department made rapid progress, and under whose supervision as Dean of the Faculty the institution has advanced from a secondary school to a standard junior college and from that to a standard senior college, we dedicate this volume.

By twenty years of service to Arkansas State College, he has created for himself an undying place in the life of the College and in the hearts of all the students who have come under his influence.

With respect and appreciation, do we, the class of 1938, dedicate this fifteenth volume of the Indian to the memory of Dean E. L. Whitsitt.

BOOK I--ADMINISTRATION

PRESIDENT V. C. KAYS

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Friends:

We stand today at a crucial time in the history of our nation. With our democracy on trial, all that it implies for you and me is imperiled. The very valid experience which we are pleased to call "college education" and which is dependent for its validity on that which follows, is both individual and social in its implications. This experience is not transient but is continuous; and through it we will be better prepared, not only to predict the future for ourselves and society, but to evaluate from day to day the individual and group experiences which through their integration become the present and future laws of the social order.

This democracy, dedicated to our use by the sacrifices of our fathers, has been our safeguard through the troublous times of nearly two centuries. This heritage was given to us safeguarded only by freedom based on education and on a mastery of mind which guarantees to the individual the ability to think straight in times of stress and properly appraise the intrinsic values of a chaotic social order. These values are not easily recognized; but if you and I have been successful in this College experience, we may be assured of reasonable satisfaction in our predictions and in our interpretations of social trends.

Our educational experience continues through life as participation in this social order and it takes many years of living to acquaint us with the values of life: years enriched by friendships and human associations; years filled with all the joys and sorrows of a well spent life. As the end of the journey approaches, memories are our most cherished heritage. Memories of friendships and affections are the best rewards of living. May we, as we look back upon the trail of life's achievements, have the satisfaction of feeling that in the course of a long life we have been worthy of the blessings of these friendships.

May we, as a result of clarity of vision, courage in our daily life, and the validity of our thinking, not only bring to ourselves at our journey's end the satisfactions of a well spent life but bequeath to our successors a democracy of thought and a society which will guarantee perpetuity of freedom to future generations. To you and to me belong this duty and this privilege.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

In the very capable hands of the Board of Trustees rests the planning and directing of Arkansas State College. This group of people has the very pertinent task of making decisions which will build the College. They are ever alert and up to the minute—always planning and laying the foundation for a better institution for the students of Arkansas State College.

From a small agricultural school with an enrollment of less than 200 to a fully accredited senior college registering close to 2,000 students every year—such is the story of the growth and development of Arkansas State College.

On April 1, 1909, Governor George W. Donaghey signed Act 100 of the Acts of 1909 establishing four schools of agriculture to be located near the geographical centers of the four quarters of the state of Arkansas. These schools were intended to be secondary schools of agriculture, home economics, forestry, and such other branches as might be necessary for the proper teaching of these subjects.

The act provided that the governor appoint five successful farmers as an honorary Board of Trustees for each of the schools; this Board was given the authority to locate the new schools, to provide for the building of the physical plants, to select the faculties, to arrange the schedule of studies, and to perform the other duties incident to the administration of the schools.

NEW BOARD MEETS

The Board of Trustees of the first district consisted of J. J. Bellamy, president; J. B. Lewis, vice-president; and W. L. Banks and C. E. Bush. In June, 1910, they decided to locate the new school in Jonesboro; and in July they made arrangements to purchase the present site. Contracts were let to Monk & Richie for the construction of the original administration building and to McDaniel Bros. for the construction of the two dormitories.

V. C. Kays was elected president of the new institution on July 5, 1910. C. V. Warr was appointed farm superintendent, and Mrs. Warr superintendent of halls. Other members of the faculty were W. H. Black, animal husbandry; F. T. Parks, mathematics and engineering; Henry Ness, biology; Miss Elizabeth Nowell, household economics; Miss Nira Beck, literature and vocal music; Miss Lillian Cooley, instrumental music; and Miss Dora Elliott, clerk.

FIRST ENROLLMENT 189

Actual work at the school began in October when catalogues were printed and a canvass for students was started. Until the building could be erected, school opened in quarters over T. J. Ellis & Company and adjacent buildings. One hundred and eighty-nine students were enrolled during the first year.

The Board of Trustees leased the Hughes home on South Main Street as a residence hall and dormitory for women and the Martin home on Cherry Avenue as a dormitory for men. President Kays was in charge of the men's dormitory and Mrs. Warr in charge of the women.

The agricultural department at Jonesboro opened its session earlier in 1910 than other schools, and its department of Home Economics was the first to be organized in the entire State of Arkansas. The University did not establish its Home Economics department until several years later.

Through the concerted efforts of County Judge Maywood and H. M. Cooley, the federal government was induced to build a one mile gravel highway from the city limits of Jonesboro to the College. This was the first federal highway work done in the state.

From time to time the personnel of the Board has been changed. The following persons have served (the last named are serving now): H. M. Cooley, I. C. Leggett, Clay Sloan, W. S. Danner, J. L. Conner, J. A. Blackford, J. A. Horne, R. E. Lee Wilson, and Miss Pearle Davis, M. F. Block, R. E. Lee Wilson, Jr., R. Whitaker, and W. L. Banks.

In 1916 a Board committee went to Washington to secure a student army training corps, and this necessitated many changes in the curriculum. The changes made at that time provided for two years of college work in addition to the four years of high school.

By 1925 further changes were made and the institution was recognized by the North Central Association as a standard Junior College. At this time the name was changed to Arkansas State Agricultural and Mechanical College, First District.

1929 BUILDING PROGRAM

In 1929 a new building program was inaugurated at the College. An act of the legislature authorized construction of buildings on a self-liquidating basis. The College Club building was the first in this series of projects. In 1931 the original administration building was destroyed by fire, and the Legislature appropriated money for a new one. However the money was never received, but through the efforts of the Board of Trustees a building was constructed at a cost of $350,000 for the building and its contents.

Two more years of college work were added in 1930. In 1933 this work was recognized by the North Central Association and the institution became a standard arts college. It received its membership as a senior college under the name of Arkansas State College, with the authority to grant degrees.

In this same year, another act of the Legislature authorized the Board of Trustees to borrow money from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the purpose of constructing additional buildings on the campus. Two residence halls were constructed that year and are now known as Danner Hall for men and the Women's Residence Hall. They were made possible by a loan of $200,000 by the R. F. C.

MANY NEW BUILDINGS

At the present time the Board has just completed construction of a Commons Building (six stories, containing four floors of dormitory rooms, a lounge, fraternity rooms, an office, the College cafeteria, a beauty shop, a barber shop, and cafe on the ground level floor), and a Teacher's Training Building at the cost of approximately $400,000 with funds from the Public Works Administration. These are both self-liquidating.

During the past three years the College has constructed with its own force a new Engineering Building and heating plant valued at $125,000, new steam and light tunnels, a fire-proof general purpose barn, and a swimming pool with adjoining fire-proof dressing rooms for physical training and athletics.

Plans have been made and some of the equipment has been purchased for the erection of a new military science building which will house a Reserve Officers' Training Corps and a National Guard Unit at the College.

OFFERS FOUR DEGREES

At the present time the College is authorized to offer the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Science in Education, and Bachelor of Music. Work is offered in thirteen departments—Agriculture; Business Administration and Economics; Education and Psychology; Engineering; English (includes Journalism, Speech and Dramatics); Music; Modern Languages (French and Spanish); Government, History, Sociology; Home Economics; Mathematics; Military Science; Physical Training; Science (Chemistry, Biology, and Physics).

With the steadily increasing student enrollment has come these new and adequate buildings and a wide curriculum of studies. Today the physical plant of the College is valued at $1,700,000.

The College library meets the standards set by the North Central Association of Colleges. Since the books are all new, this library is probably one of the most complete with respect to recent publications of any college library in the South.

DEAN D. F. SHOWALTER

DEAN OF THE FACULTY

Although he has held the post as Dean of the College for only one year, Dr. D. F. Showalter's thorough understanding of human nature and problems of administration have made possible the capable execution of his office.

Possessing a keen intellect and amiable disposition, he is an ever ready advisor for both the faculty and students. He helps untangle stubborn schedules, financial difficulties, and extra-curricular problems with a practical hand.

By keeping in constant contact with progressive education all over the United States as well as with Arkansas educational organizations, Dean Showalter is well prepared to offer excellent advice to students who expect to enter the teaching profession. By teaching several classes every week, he gets a first hand knowledge of the everyday problems of students, thus enabling him to advise them more efficiently.

REGISTRAR

The tasks of Registrar H. E. Eldridge are varied and manifold. His official position is an intricate one—that of keeping individual permanent records for every student enrolled in Arkansas State College.

Other time-consuming activities include supervision of the National Youth Administration for the entire College and serving as consulting engineer for the constructing, maintaining, and repairing of all College buildings and property.

Known as a good sport by students and faculty members alike, "Cap" frequently seeks respite from his numerous responsibilities by indulging in his favorite hobby, at which he is an expert—hunting and fishing.

REGISTRAR H. E. ELDRIDGE

MR. H. W. HOLLARD

DEAN OF MEN

The Dean of Men is chiefly concerned with the young men of Arkansas State College apart from their classroom routine. His main interest is in assisting them to make effective adjustments in their college life. The office of the Dean of Men provides opportunities for personal conferences and consultation in an endeavor to help the student to an intelligent furthering of his own interests and the interests of the College and community. A young man in college has problems which are very real and important to him, however trivial they may seem to others. In working toward the solution of some of these problems, Mr. H. W. Hollard is happy to give his assistance.

His office has general supervision of extra-curricular activities. In his office are centered, among other things, matters of student conduct. In these his chief concern is with men, emphasizing prevention and cure above discipline. His advice is available to every young man in the institution and to every student organization.

DEAN OF WOMEN

The goal toward which college women should strive is to perfect themselves as an instrument of their own destiny. If they want to make an interesting career for themselves, they must have a real desire for acquisition of knowledge and develop a high degree of personal integrity. They must have command over personal resources, all of which requires discipline of mind and discipline of spirit. Those who succeed must be trained to do their own driving, but they need advice and encouragement along the way. The Dean of Women is eager to assist the students in their ideals, and help them with their many problems.

Mrs. Mary Rogers Brown undertook the duties as Dean of Women with the opening of the fall term, 1937-1938. She has found the goal set for her high as the office was formerly filled by her mother, Mrs. Nannie A. Rogers, and most recently by her sister, Mrs. Adelaide Gafke; but she has done everything that could be expected of her and has worked with others to the end that they may have opportunities to round out their lives through honest work in an atmosphere of freedom of thinking.

BOOK II--CLASSES

TO THE CLASS OF '38

Sunrise and the bursting buds of spring
Give Youth life's jollity.
Morning Star, shine! Oh shine!
Bring Home your luxury!

Not the setting, but the rising sun;
Not the passing, the coming day;
Oh Youth, Life has just now begun:
Parade in its array!

Unfurl the royal pennants bold;
Strike down the foeman's name;
Bring forth the beauty of a rose
While Life is all aflame.

I smell the dew-bath in the air,
I hear the clarion blast:
I know they call at Youth's demesne
While Life's ambition lasts.

Now go you forth to scale the heights,
But not without some pain:
Who thus seek to find the light
Will but have sought in vain.

We, the class of '38, have completed a four year period of scholastic achievement, social adjustment, and moral construction. We have endeavored to procure knowledge which will enable us to become good citizens. Our attempts have been to enlighten our minds to the affairs of the world and to adjust ourselves that we may face them as real men and women.

In the fall of 1934, we entered the halls of Arkansas State College two hundred strong. At this time we were green but eager to learn. After a few weeks of adjustment, we began to grasp the idea and to form lasting friendships.

After the spring semester opened, with Dean E. L. Whitsitt as sponsor, we elected Toler Buchanan of Walnut Ridge as our president, and it was under his leadership that the class made headway in promoting its numerous activities during that year.

In the fall of 1935 as sophomores, we found ourselves very sophisticated but still willing to learn. That year Max Miller of Campbell, Missouri, was elected president.

With the opening of the 1936-37 term, the class chose Orville Kellett of Williford, Arkansas as president. Orville made a good pilot and guided us well on the road to seniority.

We chose William Wyatt of Jonesboro, Arkansas, to lead us through our senior year. Under his able leadership, we have progressed well toward the goal of graduation.

As we leave the portals of Arkansas State College, we realize that we are entering a world of turmoil and strife; yet we have prepared ourselves to bear these in a sane, sensible manner.

After completing three successful years at Arkansas State, we are looking forward to becoming the largest and best senior class in the history of the institution.

In our first semester of college life, we progressed rapidly in our orientation under the guidance of Dean E. L. Whitsitt, faculty advisor, and Lambert Kelley, senior sponsor. In the spring we gave picnics and a gay "Frosh" prom with Freida Secoy of Jonesboro as Queen of the Ball.

CLARK HETHERINGTON

We elected Guy Davis our freshman president at the beginning of the second semester. He was popular and efficient and was carving an outstanding career for himself in every way. But in the summer of 1936 Guy's life was lost in an accident that saddened not only the hearts of his classmates, but those of the entire student body and faculty.

Our second year of work and play as a class was directed by Millard Hardin of Tupelo, president, and Dr. Ashley Robey, sponsor. While doing nothing spectacular, we performed our second-year duties and did our part in all worthy campus activities. From our class this year came the Homecoming Queen, two of her maids, Cadet Colonel of the R. O. T. C., battalion sponsor of R. O. T. C., nine members of the varsity football squad, four varsity basketballers, three track stars, two club presidents, one social sorority president, and one INDIAN beauty.

This year for the first time in our school life, we were allowed a representative on the Student Life Committee, and we chose Billy Wilkes of Little Rock to speak for us. Mr. Earl Hazel has been our capable sponsor during 1937-38.

In this, our junior year, we have been active in both social and intellectual life of the College, and have been preparing ourselves for the last lap of our college journey which we enter as seniors next fall.

Having almost completed two years work in Arkansas State College, we, the class of '40, find ourselves pondering over the changes this time has brought about. As freshmen, we elected Newton Killough of Wynne, president. He is now a student at the University of Arkansas. Our year consisted of a dance, parties, and picnics, together with a marked progress in academic work.

We were justly proud to note that four of the six beauties in the INDIAN last year were from the class of '40. Too, the queen and five of the seven ROTC sponsors were freshmen. Of all this, we are not vain—no, just proud!

At the beginning of the year we were saddened by the death of our freshman sponsor, Dean E. L. Whitsitt. He was loved by all and had a smile we shall never forget.

However, under the guidance of our capable president, James Ramsey, and jovial sponsor, Dr. Ashley Robey, we are now completing another successful year. The first large social event on our calendar was our Shipwreck dance. It was acclaimed a novel idea and a big success. Too, we are again proud to present from the Sophomore ranks the ROTC queen. Together with picnics, parties, and other social events, we found our sophomore year to be a very pleasant one.

Next year we plan to move ahead into the places left vacant by the juniors—a leap which we eagerly await.

As we, the class of 1941, entered into our first year of college at Arkansas State College, we were all just the least bit frightened and somewhat awed; but freshman mixers and parties soon cured us.

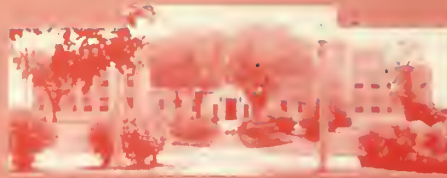

With Dr. Showalter as our sponsor and David Burford as our advisor, we soon became orientated to our new surroundings and attached to our new environment.

We went through the traditional period of introduction and initiation with the wearing of the green caps. The pig was caught, and the shoes were shined, and we hope that we did it in the right spirit, and that the succeeding class carries on in the same manner.

The class as a whole carried off their full share of honors, both athletic and scholastic.

Early in the spring officers were elected with Horace Ball of Newport becoming president.

We, the class of 1941, wish to express our utmost appreciation for all that this institution has done for us; and we sincerely hope that within the ensuing three years we may all aid in the building of Arkansas State College.

CAPT. JOHN L. LEWIS

MAJ. WILLIAM E. CORKILL
PMS&T

MAJ. B. CAMPBELL

The wisdom of the War Department in selecting Major Corkill as the first head of the Military Department at State was apparent when the unit was given the highest possible rating in its first annual inspection. Major Corkill, together with his assistants (Major Campbell, Captain Lewis, and the Enlisted Detachment) have remained at State a second year, and now are as much a part of the campus scenery as the Armory itself. We are glad to have them with us, and will be sorry when War Department orders take them to other fields.

THE CORPS

The State College R. O. T. C. unit was organized in 1936, with Major William E. Corkill, the present P. M. S. & T. at the helm. The original enrollment was about one hundred and fifty students, including about forty "volunteers" from the upper classes. Under Major Corkill's guidance, the Corps made such progress during the year that it was, at the annual inspection in the spring, rated as "Excellent"—the highest possible grade.

Last fall the Corps was increased to an enrollment of about two hundred and twenty-five. About forty per cent of these men had been members of the unit the preceding year. The results of their training were soon apparent. By their precept and example the new men rapidly took their places. In a short time the Corps resolved itself from a group of individuals to a coherent and responsive organization. Not only was the period of basic training shortened, but the standard achieved was higher than ever before.

As this is written (late in March), the Corps is preparing for the activities of R. O. T. C. week, which starts with the Sponsors' Parade. This Parade is followed in order by the Military Ball, and finally by the Military Exhibit on Army Day, April 6. Following this, the unit spends a busy month preparing for the climax of the year, the Corps Area Inspection. At this inspection the Corps is compared with all other R. O. T. C. units in the states of Arkansas, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota, and South Dakota. It then receives its rating for the year. We are confident of the outcome, and expect that again next year each member of the Corps will wear the blue star of Excellence.

PISTOL TEAM

Since the organization of the State R. O. T. C. unit in 1936, pistol firing has had a prominent place in the extra-curricular activities of the Corps. The College has provided a small-arms pistol range and pistols which are used by the Pistol Association. Members of the R. O. T. C. joining the Association are given a course in instruction, then progress to firing. In the winter and spring, the better shots are grouped into the 'varsity pistol squad, and from this group the pistol team is finally selected.

During the first year of the unit, matches were fired with pistol teams representing other R. O. T. C. units, as follows:

|                              |      |             |      |
|------------------------------|------|-------------|------|
| St. Bonaventure College..... | 1180 | State ..... | 1020 |
| University of Florida .....  | 1351 | State ..... | 1146 |
| Michigan State College ..... | 1211 | State ..... | 1169 |
| Santa Clara College .....    | 1022 | State ..... | 1195 |

With the steady improvement shown in last year's matches, and with most of last year's team returning, a good showing is expected this year. Matches have been scheduled with the following colleges:

University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.

University of Florida, Gainesville, Fla.

St. Bonaventure College, Allegheny, N. Y.

Eastern Kentucky State Teachers, Richmond, Ky.

Colorado State College, Fort Collins, Colo.

Xavier College, Cincinnati, Ohio.

University of Utah, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Iowa State College, Ames, Iowa.

Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana.

Michigan State College, East Lansing, Mich.

Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

Santa Clara College, Santa Clara, Calif.

All of the above are Field Artillery units. St. Bonaventure, Kentucky Teachers, Xavier, Michigan State, and Santa Clara are new units which were organized at the same time as the unit at State.

Eight Arkansas State girls in February, 1935, founded and received a charter for Alpha Sigma Sorority. These girls, all close friends, established the order because they thought the College needed an organization whose primary aim should be to be true to the standards of womanhood and sisterly love. Miss Dorothy Lea Lines and Miss Adelaide Rogers were the first president and sponsor respectively.

Some of our traditions are the first anniversary prom of the fall season, sponsorship of annual opera, dinner-dance in the spring, and a tea honoring the senior girls. It is at this tea that an award is made to the outstanding senior girl in Alpha Sigma. We also have a convention each summer.

Alpha Sigma now has a total membership of seventy-six girls. Active members appear in the popularity and beauty sections of the Indian, are active in Phi Theta Kappa, Pi Gamma Mu, the publication of the Herald and Indian, the Committee on Student Affairs and Convocations, and appear in the publication of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." This group has furnished the Homecoming Queen for the past three years, the Honorary Colonel of the National Guard, the R. O. T. C. Queen last year, the State and Regional President of the Y. W. C. A., and five sponsors of R. O. T. C. this year.

ALPHA SIGMA SWEETHEART SONG

(To Tune, Whispering)

Let's give three cheers for Alpha Sigma
Best sorority at grand ole' State
Look at her girls so sweet and lovely
And you will find that your heart will ache
For she's just that kind of personality
And you will always find her true
So let's give three cheers for Alpha Sigma
Alpha Sigma Girl it's you.

Always remember Alpha Sigma
When you remember days at State
Think of that girl so sweet and lovely
And you will find that your heart will ache
For she wore a pin of gold and silver
And to her pin was always true
She was your Alpha Sigma sweetheart
She meant all the world to you.

—Bettye Settle.

Delta Beta Chi Sorority was founded on the campus of Arkansas State College February 11, 1935, by nine girls—Mary Elizabeth Hollan, who served as the first president; Mary Bassett, vice-president; Elizabeth Rossington, secretary-treasurer; DuPuy Lindsey, chronicler; Anna Sue Hughes, rush captain; Jeanne Schalla, Evelyn Patterson, Helen Johnson, and Jeanne Brewer. Miss Martha Lou Lassiter, art instructor at the College, has served as sponsor ever since the establishment of the chapter.

Anna Sue Hughes was the second president, Mildred Liddell the third, and Maggie Lew Hogue is serving capably in that capacity this year.

The avowed purpose of this organization is to develop closer friendships, to promote social activities, and to make Arkansas State a greater institution. In its yearly calendar of activities, this sorority includes a number of worth while social events and benefits to campus life.

Delta Beta Chi sponsors the first dance of the year, a no-date affair which encourages new students to become acquainted and take part in social events. Celebrating its founding on February 11, the sorority annually gives a "Founders' Day Ball and Banquet" the second weekend in February.

In the spring of 1936, Delta Beta Chi suggested and sponsored an all sorority-fraternity picnic on the campus. This festival has become an annual affair.

Each year at the holiday season, the sorority takes an active part in the White Christmas for the needy. Also at this time, the group serenades the dormitories, the College Club, and Faculty Row with Christmas carols. It maintains a private bulletin board for notices and interesting information. This feature aids in keeping the College bulletin boards from being cluttered.

This year, for the third time, Delta Beta Chi offered a silver loving cup to the campus organization presenting the best chapel program during 1937-38. This contest stirs up a spirit of competition between clubs and makes for more educational and entertaining programs.

Near the close of the pledge period this spring, Delta Beta Chi pledges did something unprecedented when they entertained the pledges of the other social sororities. This tended to promote better understanding between members of the various Greek-letter groups.

Delta Omega Sigma Fraternity was founded by five men. They were W. F. DeLoache, Jr., E. L. Talliaferro, Van Smith, Charles Light, and Charles Okey. Charles Light was the first president. Since that time Paul Chambers and Eddie Heath have piloted the fraternity.

Guided by C. E. McMeans, as sponsor, this organization has endeavored to do its part in promoting the activities which make for better scholastic and social surroundings on the campus.

During the past two years Delta Omega Sigma has sponsored dances with the profits being used to help the Annual drive. Last year the fraternity held the first formal dance on the campus. From time to time the organization gives smokers and other entertainments to encourage students to attend State College.

This year the fraternity has planned a scholastic fund through which some student can borrow sufficient funds to help him continue his schooling.

PHYSICAL TRAINING

Advancement made by the Physical Training staff has placed State as number one in this department in Arkansas.

This program, as it now is, was begun at State three years ago when Herbert Schwartz was placed at the head of the department. Since that time the interest in Physical Training has increased to the extent that many students are seeking more and more work in this field.

HERBERT SCHWARTZ

Through the efforts of Mr. Schwartz, every student now takes a part in some form of recreation. Intramural games and contests in softball, tennis, badminton, paddle tennis, shuffleboard, swimming, volleyball, and many others are held regularly.

Along with his many duties as supervisor and instructor of recreation and health, Mr. Schwartz spends much of his time visiting conferences and meetings of Physical Training supervisors each year. He is always seeking new ideas on how to improve and develop the physical training of the students at State.

Mr. Schwartz is completing his third year at State, and he is now looking forward to the time when the people in Arkansas will see and appreciate the real value of correct physical training to the young men and women.

Leslie Speck, the "little man" of football, who is probably the youngest college mentor in the United States, has finished his second year as instructor and coach at State.

Mr. Speck, an interested participator of athletics and sports all his life, is weaving into the student body of Arkansas State the true meaning and value of competitive sports; physical strength, character, and clean sportsmanship.

Wendell Davis, sincere in his purpose, has developed one of the best basketball teams in the state. With a persistence that has gained statewide recognition for himself as a basketball coach, Mr. Davis drew one of State's most successful basketball seasons to a close.

"Basketball," says Mr. Davis, "is just a game to be played and enjoyed." With this thought in mind, he has, in his two years coaching at State, built the best cooperation and sentiment in his team to be found anywhere.

Miss Amy Little, head of the woman's athletics and physical training at State, believes that happiness comes first through good health. Establishing a complete recreation program at State, Miss Little has done her part to bring this objective about for the women students. Including archery, swimming, tennis, badminton, and tap dancing in her program, Miss Little has a variety of sports from which the girls may choose.

Miss Little has been at State for the past three years.

School spirit at Arkansas State has grown to an unprecedented height this year under the guidance of Jim Hyatt, head cheer leader, and his able assistants—Arline Bullard, Helen McDonald, Jeanne Gardner, Dan Hamner, and Emmett Colvin. Many of our victories were won by this thing we call “school spirit” which was fostered by the 1938 yell leaders.

They organized a pep squad of thirty students who boosted the team on foreign soil as well as at home. They presented interesting activities and stunts between the halves of the game.

Arline Bullard, who is Hyatt’s assistant, is a four-year yell leader and has spent a great deal of her time this year coaching new students and encouraging “the boys.” Helen McDonald, sophomore, has been on the cheering squad for two years—she’s the one who makes the freshmen yell.

Dan Hamner, Jeanne Gardner, and Emmett Colvin were new this year, but they did their part to help the students cheer the Indians to victory on the gridiron, the court, and the track.

Captain Clifton “Cupie” Mack of the State football team proved himself worthy of his post by leading the attack of the Indians through every game the past season. Latham Stacy was manager of the squad.

Robert Downs, captain of the basketball team, showed by his being placed on the honorable mention list for all-state that his position has been well filled. G. C. Driver was basketball manager.

Orville Kellett, captain of the Indian track team, proved his ability to lead the thinclads by being high scorer all of his four years in College. Victor Ivy was manager of the fleet-footed team.

Coach Leslie Speck called the Arkansas State College gridders for their first drill on September 3. Faced with the loss of numerous lettermen and a light team, Speck put his charges through strenuous workouts for the first game with the strong Southwestern eleven of Memphis.

During the first two weeks of practice, Bill Miller and Orville Kellett, both veterans, were injured. The Indians went down before the Lynx after a valiant fight, 67-0.

Two weeks later the Indians dropped a 28-0 decision to Delta State Teachers College of Cleveland, Miss., on the home gridiron.

Homecoming Day, October 9, saw the Tribe playing inspired ball and taking a 16-7 win from the Tennessee Junior Volunteers of Martin, Tenn. Clifton Mack, Charles Miller, and Albert Parks proved too much for the proud Volunteers.

Numerous layoffs slowed down the Redskins and saw them suffer from the irregularity of games. The high light of the year was the Hendrix game on October 22. After holding the heavier and more experienced Warriors to one touchdown in the first half, the Tribe folded up and was downed, 51-0.

On October 29 the Indians journeyed to Monticello where they received a 19-0 lacing at the hands of the Bollweevils.

Clifton Mack and Charles Miller were given honorable mention on the mythical all-state team, chosen by coaches and sports writers throughout the state.

BASKETBALL SEASON

Placing two men on the all-state team and two receiving honorable mention, the Indian cagers turned in a very successful basketball season for 1938. Losing the state championship by a narrow margin, State was conceded one of the best combinations in Arkansas. Paced by the two "Dubs," Baldwin and Clements, who were all-staters, the Davis men showed cleverness in ball handling that only the best could duplicate. Captain Bob Downs and Dorse Keller did their jobs so well that they received honorable mention for the all-state line-up. Ivan "Cotton" Busby, although not placed on the all-state team, was the steadying influence that kept the Indians so well balanced through the entire season.

Opening their season November 30, 1937, the Indians lost a game to the world Champion New York Shamrocks by a score of 36 to 23.

While on the Northern trip, the Indian squad began its fast and slow break combination which worked effectively the rest of the season.

On December 3, the Southern Illinois Normal University defeated the squad by a score of 57 to 35.

December 4, Sparks College of Shelbyville, Illinois, set the Indians back 45 to 23.

December 6, James Milliken University came from behind to beat the Tribe by the close score of 28 to 25.

December 7, State lost to St. Viator College 40 to 16.

December 8, the Indians dropped a contest to Loyola University, the National champs, 50 to 19.

December 9, Armour Tech, also of Chicago, set the Indians back by the close margin of 38 to 32.

December 10, Illinois Normal reversed the Tribe 38 to 24.

After returning from the Northern trip, the Indians rested for three weeks before beginning their regular schedule.

Opening their regular season, January 8, the Indians hit the basket for 41 points to win over Tennessee State Teachers of Memphis, who tallied only 25 points.

January 15, the Tribe again clicked to defeat Harding College by a one-sided score of 44 to 22. January 22, Tennessee Teachers again fell before the fast playing Indians. Leading his teammates Captain Downs scored 13 points to win 39 to 27.

Lambuth College handed State its first defeat of the regular schedule by a three point margin at Jackson, Tennessee, January 24.

January 27, State was again reversed when Hendrix College won 31 to 20.

February 2, Harding College rallied in the closing minutes of the game to defeat the Indians 34 to 33.

Reviving after their temporary slump, the State men came back to down Arkansas College at Batesville February 5.

February 9, the Tribe played the Lambuth College Eagles off their feet, defeating them 36 to 22.

February 12, Magnolia fell before the onslaught of the Indians to the score of 55 to 27.

February 16, State played its most thrilling game, winning over Arkansas College 31 to 29.

February 21, State lost the game which cost them the state championship. Hendrix College came through to beat the hard fighting Davis men 43 to 30.

The Indians finished the season with flying colors by downing Magnolia 41 to 29 and Henderson State 27 to 20.

TRACK SEASON

Arkansas State trackmen gave a very good account of themselves, although they lost three meets during the 1937 season. Outclassed in the weight events, the winged-footed men met all comers with very few setbacks.

Led by Captain John Ed James, the sprinters lost only one race during the scheduled season. James established himself when he ran the 100 yard dash in 9.8 seconds.

State also was never out-pointed in the jumping events. Orville Kellett, high point man for the State thinclads, has never scored less than ten points in a dual meet since he came to College.

The middle distance and distance races have never been a source of worry to Coach Speck. Jimmie Hunt, Emmett Colvin, and Glenn Spurlock came through with their share of points. Spurlock is recognized as one of the best milers in Arkansas.

Meeting Hendrix College for their first meet of the season, State lost by a score of 89-49. First places were won by Spurlock, Kellett, James, and Hunt.

The Indians suffered their second defeat at the hands of Southwestern University in Memphis. The Memphis team out-scored the Tribe by ten points after James, State's sprint star, was disqualified in two events and State's mile relay team, which won the unofficial race was disqualified.

Southern Illinois Normal University defeated the State tracksters in their final meet by a score of 104-27.

State had three representatives to win honors in the state meet. They were Kellett in the high and broad jumps and Spurlock and Vance in the mile run.

BOYS INTRAMURALS

Intramural tournaments among the men are organized under the direction of Athletic Director Herbert B. Schwartz with the aid of appointed managers and captains. Tournaments are held among classes, fraternities, and organizations. Tournament schedules are posted on the bulletin board and teams participating must play according to schedule. Records of winners and other participants are kept in the Intramural Director's office.

Some of the most interesting tournaments this year were the softball tournaments and the basketball tournaments. The fraternity softball tournament was won by the Kappa Sigma Nu fraternity of which Walter Allen was manager. The team was composed of Jacob Williams, G. W. Clements, James Crockett, Clifton Mack, Hunter Kimbro, Frank Thompson, Ezra Coe, Frank Watson, J. D. Fortenberry, David Burford, Latham Stacy, Butler Barksdale, and William Wyatt. Roscoe Chitwood made the most points in the freshman track meet held in the fall.

The Zeta Tau Zeta fraternity won one of the basketball tournaments. This team was managed by Eugene Smith. The members of the team were Randolph Gregson, Wilson Sifford, Adley Caldwell, Charles Potter, G. C. Driver, James Permenter, Kelly Thomson, James DeShazo, Paul Albright, Marvin Grisham, Fred Ratchiffe, Donald Felley, and Herbert Mack.

One of the basketball tournaments was won by the Town team. This team was managed by Norman Pierce. The members of the team were Donald Keller, Jess Wike, Bob Hughey, Merle Peterson, Victor Ivy, and Joe Wood. Eugene Smith and Ivan Busby won the doubles shuffleboard tournament. Glenn Spurlock won the cross-country run. Other tournaments are scheduled for the spring of the year.

Under the supervision of Mr. Herbert B. Schwartz, play nights are held in the Armory gymnasium. Equipment and courts are available for the playing of badminton, shuffleboard, quitoennis, aerial darts, zoop ball, paddle tennis, and volleyball on these nights. Every student is invited to come. Rackets and balls are kept busy throughout the time. For those who wish to sit, there are table games. Play nights are a coming thing, and Arkansas State College is among the first colleges to have them.

INTRAMURALS

Arkansas State College has among its campus activities an intramural program under the direction of the Physical Director, Mr. Herbert B. Schwartz. He is assisted by Miss Amy Little and Mr. Wendell Davis. It is the purpose of this program to encourage all the men and women of Arkansas State College to take part in organized athletics and games which gives wholesome and active recreation.

These sports and games are played on the campus and in the large gymnasium in the Armory Building. On the campus are two clay tennis courts and two concrete courts. There are numerous softball diamonds, a golf course, a track and football field, and other spaces marked off for various sports. Within the Armory is a swimming pool, shuffleboard courts, badminton courts, paddle tennis courts, and other courts. With the opening of school this extensive program begins and continues throughout the year.

Early fall finds many students on the tennis courts, in the swimming pool, and on the softball diamonds. Speedball, hockey, bowling, paddle tennis, golf, touch football, cross country, and badminton are among the favorite sports in late fall. As winter approaches high interest is found in basketball. Shuffleboard, ping pong, quoitennis, aerial darts, indoor horseshoes, boxing, wrestling, zoop, and volleyball add interest during the winter months. With spring, archery targets go up, hikers and roller skaters take to the outdoors, tennis courts are again filled, softball bats swing, and the track is covered with sprinters and jumpers.

Intramural letters and awards are given at the end of each year to those who have earned them. Students who are members of the varsity or freshman squads may not participate in the various sports.

The giving of letters is based on a point system. The winner or winners of a tournament each receive 100 points, second place receives 75 points, third place receives 50 points, and all others taking part receive 35 points. Each individual who earns a total of 500 points receives a letter at the end of the year. A trophy is awarded to the man who earns the most points and another trophy to the woman who earns the most points during the year. Other awards are also given.

GIRLS INTRAMURALS

All of the women's intramural tournaments are sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association of Arkansas State College. It is the function of this organization to promote all intramural sports and games by providing facilities for competition and recreation in these sports. All women regularly enrolled in Arkansas State College are entitled to intramural privileges. The Women's Athletic Association is sponsored by Miss Amy Little. It meets twice a month in order to check up on tournaments, organize new tournaments, and other business. Through this organization, the team captains are elected and the tournament schedules made out. Schedules are also made out for individual sports. Records are kept of points earned by each participant. For non-competitive sports points are also given. Tournaments schedules are posted on the bulletin board.

The Women's Athletic Association sponsors a Backward Dance each year. The proceeds are used to buy equipment. Members of the Women's Athletic Association are those women who have received intramural letters and those trying to earn them. It is one of the largest organizations on the campus.

One of the first tournaments held is the softball tournament. The winning team this year was made up of Harriet Woodside, Captain, Christine Barnett, Johnnye Lee, Betty Campbell, Loyce Braden, Juanita Ray, Freda Bollinger, Juanita Caldwell, Buetta German, and Bernice Crouch. This sport was played on the football field as was the next sport, which is hockey. The winning hockey team was made up Frances Gabbie, Captain, Marian Smith, Harriet Woodside, Mary Ann Richards, Pauline Rawls, Marjorie Kincannon, Almeda Berry, Aldean Price, Juanita Caldwell and Helen Simmons.

A swimming meet was held in which many took part. Betty Campbell won honors in this meet. Both a singles and doubles tournament were held in paddle tennis. Assuming that the type of material most interesting to readers is composed of pictures of themselves and their acquaintances, the staff of the 1938 Indian has included within these pages as much photography as the financial limitations of the book would permit.

An effort has been made to present a larger amount of informal pictures than has been used in the past. Although hampered by certain material which must be included in a yearbook and which does not lend itself to being presented in layouts radically different from those in past books, change in page designing throughout the book has been attempted. It is hoped that this, together with the features mentioned above, will meet the approval of the reader.

OUR ADVERTISERS

Turn each page tenderly with a feeling of gratitude and appreciation. When into the world you go and this book is laid aside, remember that to these men we are indebted. At times all the business men support us in words—we are glad they are for us. But the real show-down comes when they support our organizations, our teams, and our publications.

Turn not too hastily through these advertisements. They make this book possible. To these business men we are grateful. They recognize the worth of our college. They know that the development of college spirit, the attainment of the greatest good of college life, is aided by a yearbook. They are our friends. They support us. Let's support them.

HERE!

Just a Minute

This is the most important page in the Roast Section

The chances are strong that you will find something in the next few pages concerning yourself, or interests that are vital to you. You will undoubtedly be stirred up by this to a greater or lesser degree. If you are inclined to take these things personally, I ask you to bear in mind the following: First, to be mentioned at all proves yourself in the lime-light and well enough known to furnish good reading matter. Second, I was given the task of writing a Roast section and not a Shakespearian comedy. State College was demanding strong stuff. It has fallen my lot to write it, and to quote the words of the irate father, who with a resounding whack impronged his hand on a thumbtack in the lad's trou—, "My boy, this hurts me worse than it hurts you."

But in all seriousness, it has, and nothing could ever tempt me to accept such a task again. I assure you that the things said in the next few pages are entirely impersonal to me, for I am very sure that there is no one in this who bears less ill-will against anyone than myself. I have worked on the theory that if everybody was hit, nobody could complain. I hope the theory is workable.

—Editor of Roast Section

OUR FINAL GRADUATION

The scene is Hades and that grand old Dean of Men, Satan, is doling out the punishments in an admirable manner, fitting the penalty to the crime. Frank Angelo is to be bored to death by seeing himself as others see him, while Dean Holland is being bored by a fearful pair of eyes behind an immense pair of goggles. Mary Claire Murphy, Whit Jarman, and Glenda Jernigan are getting a dose of their own medicine by having their left arms talked off, and the fate of Jeanne Gardner is too terrible to describe. Friends of the "Big Apple" are tortured by the raucous tones of that horrible pest, James Halley. N. B. Menard, Jr., Dick Bradford, Jerry Wimberley, and their friends are up to their chins in beer but can never drink. L. J. Acklin, Ben Spikes, Billy Stephens, and Roy Cochrane are sitting in a spirited poker game where they continually draw to an open flush but never connect. Jeeves Ramsey, Fred Batcliffe, Butch Milner, George Henry, and Emmett Colvin are bound hand and foot and are being tortured by a continual drip, drip of water on their domes. All the little devils are operating on Bloodworth to try to make a man of him. In one room where there are many doors we find William Love Banks attempting to tie the doors together, but finds that Satan has no door knobs on his doors.

* * * * *

Cotton: "I thought you said that you would call Miss Livengood if I kissed you."

Maggie Lew: "That one wasn't even worth telling her about."

* * * * *

Hyatt: "I'm knee deep in love."

Jeffries: "I will keep you on my wading list."

* * * * *

Dr. Woodruff (Gazing over class during quiz): "Tsk, Tsk. Will one of you gentlemen who isn't using his book let me borrow it for a few moments?"

* * * * *

Dr. Showalter: "Do you know who I am, young man?"

Banks: "No, I don't, but if you can remember your address, I'll take you home."

* * * * *

Dr. Plunkett: "This class reminds me of Kaffee Hag—99 per cent of the active element has been removed from the bean."

* * * * *

Dean Ellis: "Now, if I lay five eggs here and three eggs there, how many will I have altogether?"

Billy Stephens: "I don't think you can do it."

* * * * *

Dub Baldwin: "Is this ice cream pure?"

Waiter: "As pure as the girl of your dreams."

Dub: "Gimme a package of cigarettes."

* * * * *

Joe McGuire: "Have you read 'Freckles'?"

Patty Sanders: "No, just plain, old brown ones."

* * * * *

Mrs. Bullard (to family washer-woman): "Mandy, have you seen my daughter Arline's fiance?"

Mandy (perplexed): "No, ma'am. It ain't been in the wash yet."

* * * * *

Butch: "Let me tell you about a funny thing."

Cupie: "It is not polite to talk to your friends about yourself."

* * * * *

"Dr Nedrow's out here with a flat tire," yelled a garage man.

"Diagnose the case as flatulency of the perimeter and charge him accordingly," ordered the second garage man. "That's the way he does."

The roadster skidded around the corner, jumped into the air, knocked down a lamp post, smacked three cars, ran against a stone fence, and then stopped. Nudy climbed out of the wreck.

A reporter had been sent to cover the flood disaster last winter. He was so impressed by all he saw that he tried to indicate all the emotion and heroism that he saw around him in that vast panorama of death.

In a telegram which he sent to Mr. Plunkett, he began, "God sits tonight on a little hill overlooking the scene of the disaster."

Mr. Plunkett immediately wired back, "Never mind disaster—interview God," and concluded with, "Get pictures if possible."

STATES ALL-AMERICAN FOOTBALL TEAM

Along with the other prognosticators, I would like to issue this list of unforgotten men from the gridirons of famous schools from over the world. These men have been selected for their memorable actions and commendable efforts in placing football at the head of bone-crushing sports.

Ends—J. D. "Pretty-Boy" Fortenberry
Frank "Applejack" Watson
Tackles—Yee Tin "Butcher" Boo
William "Slap-Em-Down" Kunhing
Gnards—Paul "The Terror" Brann
Joe "Horse-Apple" Hughes
Center—James "Tanks" English
Backs—Clarence "Write 'Em Up" Adams
Buddy "The Great" Kays
Esra "Sleepy" Coe
Alan "The Rooter" Showalter

Others who failed, by a very slight margin, to equal the steadily great play of this eleven are given a place in this column of HONORABLE MENTION. These men have done a great work in contributing to the development of the nations game, and it is with regret that only eleven men can be chosen for an All-American team. These men are the following: Tops "Check 'Em" Raymond, James "One Punch" Heathcott, James "Lick" Groves, William "Man-Mountain" Faught, Pernel "Willies" Barwick, Wallace "Sorry" White, Ira "Genius" Gray, and Merl "Casite" Peterson.

Bent Ears Perform

Dr. Robey challenged William Kunhing to a wrestling match. It was accepted. The match was held at Kay's Field since the Armory was considered too small and fragile to house both the match and spectators.

Dr. Plunkett was named by the Board of Trustees as referee. In the middle of the three hour match, Kunhing tossed Dr. Robey into Dr. Plunkett's lap and declared himself winner by a nose—Esra Coe's.

* * * *

STATESMEN WIN

The Statesmen swept through a stubborn Apache team today to win the Roses Boll game before ten thousand cheering fans. The Statesmen played rythmically throughout the game with little intermissions. "Take Me Down To The Ball Game" was heard on every hand when Lloyd Hancock led his tired but happy Statesmen into the dressing room for their shower—of greenbacks for playing.

CHAPEL IMPROVES

Mr. Hollard has improved the Chapel programs by the use of his dry wit and the frequent appearance of Herr Schwartz. They have almost successfully imitated Walter Winchell and Ben Bernie. The students however overlook many trivial things.

LOVE LASTS AT STATE

Love has been the theme song of America since the days of the landing of the Plymouth Rockers. Here at State the good work is diligently carried on. We shall now cite a few good examples that texts aren't the only study that State students indulge in.

Bullard and Her Man should be handed a ribbon by all means. She even wears his diamond with the greatest of ease.

Nudy Foster and Billy John Burkett are the latest couple to go ga-ga about each other. They should receive a shower of Chinese food soon.

Bob Hughey and his Mode of the Moment make quite an impressive couple. When she left for the Christmas Holidays, you could not tell who originally wore the lip-stick.

* * * *

Tailor—"What size pockets do you want made for the trousers?"

Billy Jowers—"Pints."

* * * *

Edgar Holland—"Let's drop in and see Mary Leah Mathias."

Billy Wilkes—"No, we better not; Eddie may be there."

Edgar—"No, he's not—the lights are on."

* * * *

Lives of great men all remind us,
We should strive to do our best,
And departing leave behind us
Notebooks that will help the rest.

* * * * *

Formal dances, evening clothes
Why we do it, no one knows.
Full dress pictures, string quartette
We may turn into a fraternity yet.
Stick around we'll bid you, yes.
Raw, raw, raw for D. O. S.

The BREAD LINE

by
W. J. 38

For years the people outside the walls of any of the institutions of learning that decorate the spacious countryside have wondered what occupies the mind of the undergraduate. With this situation in mind, I am giving the thoughts of the men as they progress through four years at any of America's colleges.

A Freshman Believes

That Mary is the name of the sweetest girl in the world, and she's waiting for him back home.

That clothes are worn because the law requires them.

That hazing and general castigation of freshmen is an outworn custom, stupid and unnecessary.

That fraternities are sacred institutions.

That all professors are inspired with Divine Wisdom.

That there is more real education in a bull session than in a classroom.

That a man's roommate is his best friend.

That Father is one of two parents.

That a weekend is from Friday till Monday.

That one should not say goodnight to a blonde until midnight.

That night clubs are for millionaires only.

That the Herald is a paper of respect and repute.

That a blush indicates Purity.

That a football victory is a glorious triumph.

That all "Old Grads" are learned wealthy Captains of industry.

That a class grind is a queer guy.

That President Kays is right.

That he favors co-eds.

A Sophomore Believes

That Mary is the name of a girl back home who is waiting for him.

That clothes are unimportant.

That hazing of freshmen is a necessary part of their education. It will make men of them.

That fraternities are a lot of fun.

That all professors are very wise men.

That there is more real education in a bull session than in a classroom.

That a man's dog is his best friend.

That Father is someone who signs checks.

That a weekend is too short for recreation and too long for study.

That one should not say goodnight to a blonde until one A. M.

That night clubs are too expensive.

That the Herald is a weekly paper.

That a blush indicates Innocence.

That a football victory calls for a little celebration.

That all "Old Grads" are fairly successful men.

That a class grind is almost human.

That Dean Showalter is right.

That he favors town girls.

A Junior Believes

That Mary is the name of a girl back home.

That clothes make the man.

That hazing is hazing.

That fraternities are expensive fun.

That professors make human mistakes.

That there is more real education in a bull session than in a classroom.

That a man's pipe is his best friend.

That Father is someone who dislikes signing checks.

That a weekend runs into money.

That one should not say goodnight to a blonde until two A. M.

That nightclubs are expensive

That the Herald contains Chatter.

That a blush indicates ignorance.

That a football victory calls for a big celebration.

That all "Old Grads" are just grown up boys.

That a class grind is a friend indeed.

That the Seniors are right.

That he favors debutantes.

A Senior Believes

That Mary is the name of a girl.

That clothes make the woman.

That hazing and general castigation of freshmen is a timeworn custom, stupid but necessary.

That fraternities are darn expensive.

That professors make inhuman mistakes.

That there is more real education in a bull session than in a class room.

That a man's his own best friend.

That Father is someone who can't comprehend the expenses incidental to a college education.

That a weekend is expensive but worth it.

That one should not say goodnight to a blonde.

That nightclubs are a necessary expense.

That the Herald is a school rag.

That a blush indicates true Sophistication.

That a football victory means a Blue Monday.

That all "Old Grads" are boys who never grow up.

That a class grind is a very helpful friend.

That Barnum was right.

That he favors co-eds, town girls, debutantes, waitresses, shop-girls, divorcees, mannequins, widows, hello girls, and just plain girls.

DR. PLUNKETT FAVORS THE HONOR SYSTEM

At 10:43 yesterday A. M. Dr. Plunkett punched the button that summons the trusty Fiero.

"Elmer, my boy, have the class rooms been fitted with the latest type of concealed dictograph capable of recording the slightest whisper?"

"They have, sir."

"And have all the concealed cameras been placed with means for operating them from a distance?"

"Yes, sir."

"And have the telescopes been installed so as to command a view through the windows of every class room?"

"They have."

"And is there now a private detective enrolled as a student in every class?"

"I believe there is."

"Good. You may give the reporter a statement saying I am in favor of the Honor System at Arkansas State."

* * * * *

Dr. Huitt: "Where was the Declaration of Independence signed?"

Paul Brann: "At the bottom, Sir."

WHY GUY FRENCH GAVE UP BATCHING

Guy—"I got one of them cookery books once, but I never could do anything with it."

Mason—"Too much fancy work in it, eh?"

Guy—"You said it! Every one of them recipes began the same way: "Take a clean dish—and that settled me!"

* * * * *

With talking pictures, when you hear: "Take your hands off of me!" you don't know whether it's the picture or the girl behind you.

* * * * *

Katie: "Say, Horace, how did you get that red on your lip?"

Horace B.: "That's my tag for parking too long in one place."

* * * * *

Ray Ward: "I can't understand how Orville would pay $5 for a kiss from his own wife."

Kelly Thomson: "No? Well, the policeman who caught them kissing in a parked car wouldn't believe they were married."

* * * * *

Major Campbell's Scottie: "Have you a family tree?"

Mr. McMeans' dog: "No, we aren't particular."

THANKS

We take this space to give recognition to those people who have made possible this publication. To those on the staff of the 1938 INDIAN for their cooperation; to Dr. J. R. Patty, sponsor, for his untiring efforts and constant guidance; to Winford Wyatt, '37, Business Manager of 1937 INDIAN, for his assistance with the layout; to Ashton Tyler for his contribution of art; and to the many others who helped with the printing, we express our thanks and appreciation.

Wm. WYATT, Editor.

Dr. Patty (looking at the exam paper): "Why the quotation marks on this paper?"

Gene Lilly: "Courtesy to the man on my right, sir."

* * * * *

Marge: "Did you ask father for my hand?"

Top (bitterly): "Yes, I asked him over the phone, and he replied: 'I don't know who's speaking, but its O. K. with me'."

* * * * *

Miss Livengood: "Where have you been until 3 A. M.?"

Louise Walker: "Walking."

Livengood: "For goodness sake!"

Louise: "Yes, Miss Livengood."

* * * * *

Mrs. Eldridge (talking over the back fence): "Now that I have an electric refrigerator, I'm going to see what I can do for a mechanical stenographer for Harry."

Campbell: "Dont be afraid of him, you know the old proverb, 'a barking dog never bites'."

Kunhing: "Yes, you know proverb, and me know proverb, but does the dog know proverb?"

* * * * *

Dr. F. W. Plunkett: "Whatever on earth made you write such a paragraph as that?"

Ashton Tyler: "I quoted it from Dickens, sir."

Dr. Plunkett: "Beautiful lines, aren't they?"
